VETERANS EXPO SET FOR NOV. 4

We honor them on Memorial Day and Veterans Day, but it is my firm belief we should be thanking our veterans every day for their service and sacrifice.

That's why it is my honor to announce I am reviving the Veterans Recognition Event and Expo for all our local heroes across Luzerne County. Please mark your calendars for Saturday, Nov. 4. Our venue for the event will be Misericordia University in Dallas. I will be co-hosting this special day with Sen. Lisa Baker and Rep. Aaron Kaufer.

The day will start with a veterans recognition program at 10 a.m. in the Lemmond Theater. Afterward, veterans can stop by Insalaco Hall, where more than 30 vendors will be assembled until 1 p.m. offering services and information specifically for veterans. A light reception will also be part of the event.

If you are a veteran, or if you know of a veteran who would like to participate in the expo, please contact my Dallas office at 570-675-6000. The deadline to RSVP is Friday, Oct. 27. You can also reserve your spot by contacting Rep. Kaufer's office at 570-283-1001. Veterans can bring their spouse or one guest. Again, we are grateful to all local veterans for their faithful service to our country.

If you plan to attend, please complete this cutout section and return it to my Dallas office,

SHICKSHINNY CHURCH RECEIVES ALMOST $12,000 IN UNCLAIMED CASH WITH HELP OF MY OFFICE STAFF

It has been great getting to know some very nice people in the Shickshinny area over the last few months, and it was my pleasure to help a church there get some money from the state Treasury through an unclaimed property case my staff handled.

It all started on a bleak April day. I was visiting the Historical and Preservation Society of the Greater Shickshinny Area, enjoying a tour led by Jim Bach. At the end of my visit, Jim asked for help with getting some unclaimed property owed to his church, First Presbyterian of Shickshinny.

My staff got right on it. And though there were a few slight delays, the church has received its check for $11,712.86.

The money could not have arrived at a better time. It will be used to help replace an oil furnace installed in 1972 and to repair recent damage by vandals who cut copper piping for the central air conditioning unit.

First Presbyterian celebrated its 159th anniversary in the spring. Here's hoping this windfall helps to keep the doors open for many more years to come.

Special thanks to Jim Bach, church treasurer Bob Ruckle, and the Treasury staff for helping with this claim.

Residents should know my staff can help them search for any unclaimed property the state Treasury might be holding for them. Just call any of my offices or stop by during business hours.

Working Together IN THE HOUSE

One of my priorities as a state representative is to work with House members from both sides of the aisle to best benefit the people we represent back home. As a result, I have joined two House caucuses made up of both Republicans and Democrats who share the same goal.

Established two years ago, the “Meet Me in the Middle” Caucus brings members of both parties together to work on common issues, such as community safety, a strong education system and a growing business climate that expands career opportunities.

The newly created Bipartisan Future Caucus focuses on those same issues with the hope of fostering a generational shift toward collaboration and bipartisanship. Our work is already producing results as several bills with Republican and Democrat co-prime sponsors have been introduced this legislative session.

These caucuses provide us with a way to listen to people, nonprofit organizations, advocacy groups and businesses across the Commonwealth and work collectively to address major issues. My hope is that this approach can lead to progress on the concerns expressed to me by constituents, families and business owners in the 117th Legislative District.
